Uniform Reminder & PE Days 2025-2026

(Our current provider will continue to sell their stock of red and grey uniform items and staff has been informed that it is a gradual phase out)

We have reduced the number of days that children require their school uniform by allowing them to wear their PE kit on two days of the week. (You will be notified if there is a special day such as school photographs so that you can ensure that children are dressed appropriately.)

SUN FACTS

ROMAN ARMY

The Roman army contained about 400,000 - 500,000 men all together. They were extremely successful due to their professional training, men and the number of them they have can cover nearly the whole of Europe. Unlike other countries they had strong weapons.

They have built the first shopping mall.

Despite their advanced technology, Romans believed that illness was caused by witchcraft.

ROMAN GODS

Romans believe in many gods, but most of them being named after planets such as Mars, Venus, Jupiter, and so on. Minerva Goddess of War, Apollo God of the sun and his god of mountains.

ROMAN DIET

Romans ate a questionable range of food with the strange things being camel hump, peacock brains and flamingo tongue. Of course they did eat ordinary food like oats, bread, porridge and if they were wealthy lots of meats, fruits and fine wine.

ROMAN GODS

There were hundreds of gods including 12 major gods. These are Jupiter, Juno, Mars, Venus, Minerva, Apollo, Pan, Neptune, Mercury, and Saturn. Jupiter was the god of gods. Juno was the goddess of goddesses. Mars was the god of war. Venus was the goddess of love. Minerva was the goddess of war. Diana was the goddess of the moon and hunting. Pan was the god of mountains. Neptune was the god of the sea. Mercury was the messenger god. Apollo was the god of the sun.

Some people said if you were to die saturn would appear.

Some were named after their first king Romulus.

ROTTEN ROMAN

Boudicca Battle axe

Boudicca was the leader of the Icenii tribe. She was known for her red hair. When her husband King Prasutagus died, he left half of Icenii (modern day Norfolk) to Boudicca and the rest to Rome. But Nero was not happy neither was Boudicca, so they declared war. 100,000 Celts against 10,000 Romans. Everyone thought the Celts would win but 80,000 Celts died and Rome won. So Boudicca poisoned herself. Before the war Boudicca set fire to Colchester (Eborac) and London (Londinium).

Did you know? There was a god for each day of the week.

Roman Britain

When the Romans came to England it was just the end of the Iron Age. So we were living in round huts. We had lots of dogs. Then Roman branncoats brought the Saxons to conquer Britain in AD 410.

Did you know? Roman was founded in 753 BC.

Diet: Romans ate olives, peacock brains and flamingo tongues. (I'm glad we don't eat some today). They drank wine and ate grapes and fish. They ate turkey, bread, chicken, cheese, pancakes. They drank tea. Romans ate lying down.

Author of the Week

ROSS MACKENZIE

The Nowhere Emporium won the Blue Peter Award and Scottish Book Award in 2016.

Ross writes incredible series of books which not only transport you to another world, but include magic and mystery which will have you hooked from the first page to the last.

If you enjoy reading about adventure, then these books are for you: each one will take you on a journey across a new place, where you will meet a range of characters who you'll feel like you know by the end.

If you like Jenny McLachlan or Abi Elphinstone, you'll love these books!

I do get lost in a story when I write, and for me that's one of the joys of being a writer. The characters come alive and do unexpected things.

Ross Mackenzie says:

Reading for Pleasure Matters at Hunters Hall

Welcome back to our summer term! As part of our commitment to our school values (Collaboration, Motivation, Preparation, Resilience, Creativity & Curiosity), children continue to experience a broad and balanced curriculum based on our carefully considered topics. In every year group, pupils can be historians, geographers, artists, philosophers, empathisers and critical thinkers. Each week we will showcase a different year group, suggesting books that will support and extend current learning. This week we are focusing on Year 6!

Geography

In Geography we are learning about tectonic plates and their impact on natural disasters. In Earth Shattering Events by Robin Jacobs, we explore nature at its most destructive!

Humans often take our domination of the planet for granted, but sometimes nature reminds us that this is an illusion. Tectonics rip open the earth, vast waves sweep away coastal towns, magma spews from volcanoes and hurricanes lay waste to entire countries. This book offers clear, coherent explanations for phenomena including hurricanes, tornadoes, avalanches, earthquakes, tsunamis and volcanoes.

Literacy

Our core text this half term is 'Alma' by Rodrigo Blaas, a dark fairy tale theme with an eerie atmosphere, beautiful CGI animation.

Children who loved this short film might enjoy Coraline, a dark fantasy novella about a young girl who discovers a sinister, parallel "Other World" behind a door in her new home. She must use her wit and bravery to rescue her real parents and the souls of three ghost children from the manipulative Other Mother, who tries to force her to stay forever.

PSHE and Transition

Earlier this year, we recommended The Final Year, focusing on a Year 6 child's perspective of their final year in primary school.

To help our current Year 6s prepare for their next educational adventure, they may enjoy Matt Goodfellow's next instalment: The First Year! We are reintroduced to Nate, who is trying to navigate the changes in secondary school with his two best friends. With so much going on, will Nate be able to keep his beast (anger) under control?
